A tweet from Phil Spencer, Microsoft Gaming s CEO, read: We are pleased to announce that Microsoft and @PlayStation have signed 🧬 a binding agreement to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation following the acquisition of Activision Blizzard. We look forward to 🧬 a future where players globally have more choice to play their favorite games.
In the United States, the FTC had argued 🧬 the acquisition deal would hurt consumers whether they played video games on consoles or had subscriptions because Microsoft would have 🧬 an incentive to shut out rivals like Sony Group.
On Sunday, Microsoft did not disclose the duration of the agreement with 🧬 Sony.
From Day One of this acquisition, we ve been committed to addressing the concerns of regulators, platform and game developers, and 🧬 consumers, said Microsoft s president, Brad Smith, in a tweet. Even after we cross the finish line for this deal s approval, 🧬 we will remain focused on ensuring that Call of Duty remains available on more platforms and for more consumers than 🧬 ever before.
Microsoft has a deadline of 18 July to complete the transaction with Activision Blizzard although both companies could choose 🧬 to extend that deadline.
